"PATAWARTA HILL LOG BOOK"

This book and its container was provided by Adelaide Bushwalkers Inc. as part of an on-going project to place log book on some of the major peaks and places of interest in the Flinders Ranges.

Our aim is to provide a permanent record of the visits made to this area. Please feel free to include any comments that may assist in the management or conservation of the area. We would appreciate your observations of native plants and animals as well as pests and the availability of water.

If the log book is damaged or requires replacement, please contact Adelaide Bushwalkers and we will attempt to replace it as soon as possible. Refer Telephone Directory for the current Adelaide Bushwalkers number.

We hope you enjoy your trip.

Climbed up the North side after being dropped off by Mark. Top spot for a picnic lunch.

Are staying overnight to see the sunset & sunrise, but limited camping sites. Very hot days so only wildlife we have seen has been lizards & birds - kookaburra snared past.

There's not many spots in the world where you can get such an inspiring view, so let's preserve it. Those campers who gets this far up has a really nice day.

What an awe inspiring view! Truly panoramic views can easily pick out the layout of the whole central Flinders region. A truly wilderness area. We've ridden on mountain bicycles from the Gorge road (a long 21km bike ride) and walked up from the gap.

Well worth the climb. Thanks for the opportunity to write in this book.

We've gone our track and the ride back to look forward to.

what you will end up doing with your lives.
Whatever you do, make sure you set a little bit (a big mess preferably) of time for sitting on outback hills such as this, and contemplating your navel. We just had lunch, had some

Mt Pataworta is certainly an exceptional mountain for the diversity of its flora.

I am glad we are not climbing in the hotter months of the year. We have had lovely weather with a gentle breeze for all of our climbs.

Must have been the first ascent oxygen and no assistance from our Helicopter. Walked from Base Camp

— Point Well — where our car ran out of petrol! (Almost anyway — I think we're walking home)

Of course our nocturnal Ascent

you do it in the dark!

Spent the night up here; No good though as we couldn't get SA FM on the radio — Should be able to with an aerial this big!
See solar cells work in the dark don't they?

Slept right through sunrise too

lying on was the shape of the Matterhorn and the size of Ayers
Rock.

'MARTIN'S WELL SIT'

YUNTA. B-10-90.

Mark & I first walked to Mt Patawarta in 1987 from 'Whitford well' then back to Blinman. Today's walk up the N.W face has been just as magnificent.

Even though it's terribly windy up here. Along the way we've come across a quondong tree, looking a bit sick but abundant with fruit. I'm most impressed with the two native orchids we saw. Well, we think they were. About 25cm in height, the flower a pale green and very orchid looking all the wildflowers out are absolutely beautiful especially among the coloured rocks. We'll be back again and again.

13/5/91.

Back again after 3 weeks - this time with Class 10 from Mt. Barker Waldorf School. They have just spent 9 days surveying the town of N. Blinman to draw a plan map and yesterday we left Brakange and walked to Clock Spring. We left Clock Spring this morning 10<sup>30</sup> and got to the top at 12<sup>30</sup>. It is still and ~~warm~~ warm and a beautiful place to have lunch. It has been a pleasure to be with this class of young people - anyone would be proud of the way they lived, worked and walked together.

The country looks great after a couple of good seasons!

Peter Hely. - Mt. Barker Waldorf School.

What a walk! but it was worth it! The view is great, and the weather is ~~savagel~~.

Visited class 10 ~~vacalay~~ school!

13/5/91. Day 11 from the Strzelecki Track and Mt. Hopeless.

En-route to Crystal Brook, climbing most of the range's major peaks. This is one of my favourite mountains. I feel a bit uneasy about the repeater station, no one would dream of installing one on the alter of St Peter's, so why here? However I guess the mountain will still be here when the civilisation that created UHF radios is long gone. Would love to stay overnight, but I do not have a stove to cook on. (Hint! - don't light any more fires on top) plus I have yet a long way to walk until the bakery and the hotel at Crystal Brook.

Trevor PRATT - Eden Hills S.A.

15/5/91 Day 9. Mt Babbage to Cape Jervis this time.

I completed the '91 trip in 24 days. I hope that this goes as well. 5 P.M. now so I will bivvy on top. Trevor Pratt.

I've enjoyed the walk very much and the scenery is spectacular. What a magnificent place to be on a quite Sunday afternoon. Margaret Hoare goodwood, etc.

Good morning Adam John Hoare and I

I got 100 acres and there 1000s have come with us over 1000s and tomorrow we will be climbing Mt. Lach. We came by the -fathers Necklace over 2000 ft. from our mountain in Vann. I am not walking as I and as this was camping in a small valley and besides there was no one around my little son, Leanne and his 2 other best friend and Rebecca Cawood brought and Jessy Catherine and Rebecca came. So I passed my time reading Victor Keltie and Dragons and Dyson trials to Started yesterday with surprise champagne and cake lunch for my birthday at Point Well. Of night Molkegna Bone (water in creek). Lunch today w/o champagne & cake but tremendous views I have wanted to climb Patawanta since reading description in Warren Beatty's Walking the Flinders Ranges in mid 70's. Superb views, country & bushwalking beats the views from Kilimanjaro I could sit here for hours & enjoy it if it was not for the bloody black ants.

First time up this marvellous mount. I'm sorry
my wife didn't come, she would have appreciated the magnificent 360° view. The best view of the Flinders is <sup>from</sup> right here. - Mark Rathjen Salisbury East It's blowing a gale up here but it feels great after the hard work of the last couple of hours. Left the car 2 hours and 20 min. ago somewhere way over in the east on a 4WD track that branches off the Blinman-Wisealpa road (I hope the car is still there when we get back). This is my second time upon this grand summit - last time climbed it from the north after leaving vehicle at Pat. Gap. This time climbed it from the S.E. - far more challenging. A bit concerned about the growing number of prickly pears (?) sighted. Are they becoming a pest?! Enjoying the view. Helping to relieve the pain of my beloved Carlton going down to those mean Essendon players last Saturday. Oh well, may be next year is their year.

8th time up here. Very calm sunny day; I hope the view won't change or be ruined. This place is the best the way it is, so all you tourism dreamers, keep your nits off!!!, &
run another area.

Hope to be back up here, in October, for Climbed up following ridge from Patawattha Gap | Road to the west. Full Packs - took  $3\frac{1}{2}$  hours and much sweat | scrambling, weather - sunny -  $16^{\circ}\text{C}$  20-30 knot wind from N.E. Made camp - Spec. sunset - wind ↑ to 40+ knots + temp  $5\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}\text{C}$ . Rock exploded around campfire - have heard of it, but never seen it before - Much excitement with coals flying heavenward. Slept wedged in a rock - 1st time and caught sensational sunrise. Life now in perspective.

Thinking of my children Jackson Fletcher of Slamon of their Run - his will bring them up here when they are old enough.

This is a special place. Much debate over descent - Doyle says 5th route & says it is easy! Nicko & I dubious?

Anyhow - Have a nice life! - see you Jackson Fletcher of Slamon

Sep 11th of 1995 (I don't know if that's right)

This bloody better than going to school
I got a week off school to come here. We have camped about half a Kilometer from the mountain and there's six of us 2 girls and 4 boys. The camels names are Anne, Coopet, Leonorah, Sahib, Mora and Ray. The view is beautiful up here, the leader of the camper is my Uncle Stephen Tuckwell and on this trip we don't have to boose lose weight which because is good because if I did I would be as skinny as a rake. (To all you other people that come up here have a good trip).

Michael Tuckwell age 13

It still is Sep 11th a lovely warm spring day. It couldn't be any better. We have come a long way Damian and I to enjoy the Flinders ranges and we are starting to forget what it's like on the other side of the world in London, England. Being French myself it is not the most popular Nationality at the moment but I promise not to drop a bomb as suggested by our guide Stephen from outback camel co.

I am sure I will have lost weight by the end of the holiday (another 2 weeks) and that's not a bad thing. Voilà je n'ai rien d'autre à ajouter. Les Australiens sont super sympas et on a bien l'impression d'être au bout du monde.

ici, pas de bruit ou pollution, c'est merveilleux. Je n'ai pas hâte de retourner à Londres ça c'est sûr.

I used to be a ~~she~~ wolf, But I'm a ~~light~~ <sup>Terry</sup> Nonhuman.

I was obviously lied to about the revolving restaurant that was supposed to be at the top of this mountain!!

By the way, has anyone seen Miranda?

To Kirstie I love you and heard your beautiful story with all my heart.

To James, my dear friend you are a beautiful being - I hope you stay in that place and find more beauty.

To Terry, who doesn't realize how beautiful he is -
I hope you allow yourself to love yourself even more. I don't believe there is a limit!

...and to all those that make the effort to climb this hill, I hope you realize there is more beauty inside of you - because you can appreciate what goes around you.
