NORTH TUSK HILL LOG BOOK

The following typed pages are a transcript of messages left on the summit of North Tusk Hill from 1956 to 1996. The original volume was removed from the summit in April 1996 because it was wet and mouldy and would not have lasted much longer.

Unorthodox spelling has been retained in transcription. Uncertainty about spelling of names is indicated by (?). Variant spellings of names are indicated by (sic). (Spelling of place names has been checked against the Department of Lands 1:50 000 topographic map sheets Serle, 1983, Illinawortina, 1992, and Nepabunna, 1982, and the Division of National Mapping 1:250 000 topographic sheet Copley, 1985.)

It has not been possible to reproduce the exact lay-out of each entry, but the general sense has been preserved.

John Love, Scientific Expedition Group, June 1996.

P.S. Many thanks to those in charge of the thermostat control for dropping the temperature back from yesterday's stinker.

It started with the alternator dying on the car on the way up, so an extra night spent at Lupton while it was fixed. Next we forgot the fox bait and had to walk back to get it. Then the cable used to communicate with the logger didn't work. The next logger had a flat battery. But now we are here gazing at this wonderful view so the last few days' frustration is almost forgotten.

we could all soldier on today without going

Fire from 1st Nov. Lots of small plants growing in fire areas.

Walking across to the Plateau now much easier through the burnt area. Windy, windy, windy but sunny. Lovely trip so far.

23 April 2016 C. Wright, A. Cornish, R. Hickman, T. Williams, G. Blair. Almost blowing a gale (not quite), clear, gorgeous & cool, almost cold. After 3 years, grass here again (Trish).

23 April 2016 - Alex Cornish (09:40) Was first time in the Gannons and a wonderful view all around.

8th October 2016 - Chris Wright & Graham Blair

08:40 - Weather clear & cool - slight breeze. We will investigate a minor problem with the date logger at the Plateau Rain gauge. All good. Everything in flower & Arctostaphylos growing for its full length - first time in 20 years.

24th April 2017. Christopher Kemp, Chris Wright, Graham Blair, Frank Tomes, Phil & Janet Davell, Peter Love, Heidi Love. John Love at Vanderburg.

Weather overcast and raining overnight both nights so far. All loggers (pleurox) look to be fine. Will try not to be struck by lightning. Wonderful views!

1st October 2017 - Have been too busy to fill in the book the last few trips. Crisp morning at camp. Left the cars yesterday at 4:15 pm and marched into camp just short of lower VDB as the sun was setting. Strong cold winds all the way up ^{today} but with the sun shining. Weather predicted to be 22° today. Michelle & Garry sporting fresh head colds & snotty noses.

23rd April 2018

Massive party this trip with Gary & Michelle, Phil & Janet, Graham, Alex Trish, Steve Gatti, Billy Cahill. So far a smooth trip for calibrating stations, may it continue for the rest of the trip. Weather is fine & breezy on 14th Tusk 9:40 am & warming up.

11/12 - Garry & Michelle Trethaway

Hammon Ranges Reunion Trip Didn't have the easiest start to the trip as I got flat tire at Mt. Serie turn off. My host Monte

James and I started at Arcadia Campground. Night 1 - we camped 2 ridges east of here. started the trip right with a few scratches and yawns. Night 2 - SLOWOUT on Center Hill. No, like I mean Series blowout. we got back wild.

Night 3 - Here on the summit of North Tish Hill we will camp on western side of summit.

Tomorrow morning we will make our way back to cars and head our separate ways.

John → Arkia rovia

James → Apterode.

ps. In 2013 we camped on the peak 2 nights.
